

Winterval: Lords a Leaping

Georgian Jumping Jack or Leaping Lord?

Learn how to make a Georgian style jumping jack as a decoration for your tree or room using split pins and paper.

You will need:

6 x split pins
Scissors
Thickish paper
Pencil crayons, paint or felt tips String or wool
The template

Print out or draw from the template and add colour to your character

Cut out all the pieces carefully

Hole punch where the marked circles are (tip – if you hole punch too close to the edge, just stick a piece of paper over it and try again)

Put a split pin through the holes not too tight.
With the arms and legs, make sure you put the pin through the bottom holes as the top will be for string later

Stick on the triangles by gluing the edges and sticking to either side of the legs

Depending on where your hole punch is, you may need to trim the triangles so they don't overlap the split pins

See if you can find the piper in our virtual tour of Cannon Hall:

On the back, tie a loop through each hole punch and knot

Tie another strip of string to the loop, so it hangs down and when you pull it, his arms should move!

So the same on the legs (it's easier to do two separate pieces of string to move the arms and legs)

Test out the strings to see if they work, they may need some adjusting

Attach a loop of string to the back of his head to display and you are finished!

If you want to make more, then why not create 10 lords a leaping! Or give them as gifts
