

Make your WOW! Magic Bean Stalk

Now, we haven't got any magic beans but watching a seed as it grows is pretty magical so, if you want to watch some beans grow you could plant them in some soil but if you'd like to see the root and the shoot as it starts growing you could try this.

Get a clear container that you can see through and some kitchen towel (about 3 sheets that you leave attached to each other).

Fold the kitchen towel into half and then into quarters. Curl it gently inside your container.

Pour in a little water and see it soak up through the paper towel.

Now carefully place your bean between the kitchen towel and the outside surface.

Make sure you keep the kitchen towel damp. Watch your seed grow.

You will need:

Runner or french bean seeds
A clear container
A jug
3 sheets of kitchen roll
Water
